Hailey Prasad
University of San Diego

At PG&E we believe in supporting our communities with more than the power that runs through the lines. We believe in education and the power that education has in strengthening a community.

That's why we're awarding scholarships of $2000 to $20,000 to bright minds who have given back to the local community or who have overcome great personal challenges.

High school seniors, current college students, veterans and adults returning to school are encouraged to apply.

Together, Building
a Better California
