

Teacher Community of Practice

As Robert John Meehan says, "The most valuable resource that all teachers have is each other. Without collaboration, our growth is limited to our own perspectives." Join a community of teachers, committed to growing in their practice, where you will have the opportunity to share our resources, ideas, learn from each other, and offer support and encouragement along the way. We will explore SEL for Teachers and Students, Accelerated Learning, Universal Design for Learning, Assessing and meeting needs in Real-Time, and much more.
