

Pathways of Continuous Improvement Workshops & Differentiated Assistance Support

California has made a series of major shifts in public education, all focused on the same objective: to improve every students' learning. Our state has changed the way it evaluates and supports schools. Using more than just a single measure, California's new accountability system confronts the gaps for student groups that can be hidden within student averages.

SJCOE is committed to providing Differentiated Assistance for our local districts and schools through collaborative and personalized support. We promote a systems approach to continuous improvement, working alongside districts to build understanding of why performance gaps exist and to identify effective improvement strategies.

San Joaquin County districts who qualify for Differentiated Assistance are strongly encouraged to participate in SJCOE's "Pathways of Continuous Improvement" workshops as part of their required support. On-site, customized technical assistance is offered to each Differentiated Assistance district preceding, between, and after the workshops.
