FEATURING MOTIVATIONAL SPEAKER

KEVIN HONEYCUTT

"RECONNECTING WITH LOST LEARNERS BECAUSE EVERYONE MATTERS"

Kevin Honeycutt is a technology integrationist and a staff developer from Central Kansas. He spent 13 years teaching K-12 art and now travels the country and the world sharing ideas with educators. His website kevinhoneycutt.org is a valued treasure house of resources for educators.

In his life he's gone from being an at-risk kid doing stints in foster care to traveling the globe talking to audiences of educators, business people and kids. Kevin grew up in poverty and attended school in many cities across the United States. As he witnessed education around the country he collected powerful experiences that still influence his conversations and his work with educators.
